MASTER'S IN SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT, LOGISTICS, AND INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Our Master's in Supply Chain Management, Logistics, and International Trade is a programme of excellence designed to train the future leaders of global operations.

Available on-campus and online, with a double degree from CMI and the Catholic University of Ávila (UCAV), the programme responds to a reality: globalisation, the growth of e-commerce, digital transformation and the need for resilient, sustainable supply chains have turned logistics and international trade into strategic areas for business competitiveness.

It therefore offers advanced training in supply chain management, operations, warehousing, international transport, foreign trade, international contracting and strategic management, and incorporates artificial intelligence, robotics, cybersecurity, sustainability and leadership, with an eminently practical methodology geared towards the international market.
